Our key findings

Pay:

The overall RWG (Repair and Overhauls) Limited mean pay gap is 1.6%; the median is 7.3%.

The key findings that explain this gap are consistently related to gender distribution across occupations and job levels.

Our analysis shows:

- Males make up a significant majority of the workforce.
- Females make up the largest proportion of part time workers, however this has no impact on full time equivalent pay.
- A clear job grading structure exists which ensure roles at equivalent levels are paid equally irrespective of gender.

Bonus:

The overall RWG (Repair and Overhauls) Limited mean bonus pay gap is -33.3%; the median is -59.7%.

Our analysis shows:

- Most females form part of the staff bonus plan whereas most males form part of the workshop bonus plan which has an impact on the overall figure.
- Pro-rata payments for some pay elements due to the high number of part time workers has impacted the bonus figures used in the calculation.

We are confident that our gender pay gap does not reflect an equal pay issue nor is it related to paying males and females differently.

This report details the gender pay gap reporting requirements covered under The Equality Act 2010 (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017. The regulations require companies with more than 250 employees to publish information on their gender pay gap.

Accuracy statement

I confirm the gender pay gap data contained in this report is accurate and has been produced in accordance with the regulations.
